PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Canada has intricate and complex shipping regulations as it is governed by a multitude of regulations, including the Canada Shipping Act, 2001, the Arctic Waters Pollution Prevention Act, and the Marine Transportation Security Act. This extensive legal framework covers various aspects of maritime operations, making compliance a challenging task for shipping companies.

This certified program is designed to help you unravel the complexities of Canadian maritime legislation and international shipping regulations. It provides in-depth insights into key legal aspects, including maritime jurisdiction, vessel registration, carriage of goods, environmental regulations, maritime insurance, liability limitations, and salvage operations. This comprehensive coverage equips you with the knowledge and skills to navigate the intricate legal landscape of maritime law in both Canada and globally.

You will gain a thorough understanding of core legal principles, legislative requirements, and the practical application of laws governing shipping and maritime activities. The program includes detailed exploration of the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea (UNCLOS), marine administrative law, Hague-Visby Rules and marine environmental protection. Additionally, it offers an in-depth review of Protection and Indemnity (P&I) insurance and a comprehensive overview of shipping insurance regimes, empowering you to manage risks effectively.
